Love Your CARPET

On the surface, carpet cleaning seems pretty simple. Rent a machine. Fill the tank. Pour in some detergent. Flip a switch and start cleaning. Before long, your carpet is clean and fresh. However, as anyone who has actually cleaned carpet knows, there's more to it than that. Here are some interesting facts about carpet that affect cleaning results.

Some of the most common questions asked about carpet cleaning are, "Will the spots come back?", "Will the dents from the furniture come out?", "Will the traffic areas look better after it's done?", and "Will these stains come out?"

The answers depend on several factors that we consider when we clean your carpet.

Carpet can be made with a variety of fibers, each having its own cleaning characteristics. Every fiber responds to traffic differently. Spills that are easy to remove from one fiber may permanently stain another.

Various styles such as loop pile, friezé, shag, Saxony and velvet plush all respond to traffic in different ways. The quality and density of the cushion is another factor that determines how well a carpet performs in traffic areas.

Even the way the pile yarns are twisted and how tightly packed they are in the carpet backing makes a difference in durability and cleanability.

An experienced cleaner will assess the condition of your carpet, asking questions such as, "How old is the carpet?", "How was it cleaned in the past, and how often?", "Was protector applied during the last cleaning?", "How old are the spots, spills and stains, and have you tried anything to clean them?"

With all of these variables, it's not an exact science. BUT there are some things we know about carpet, fibers, soil and stains that give us a clue as to what we can anticipate from the cleaning process. The most important consideration is the type of fiber.

Wool carpet has excellent resilience, so those crushed traffic areas and furniture indentations have a good chance of coming out. Wool is more easily stained by proteins than other fibers, so some foods, pet urine and other protein sources like blood will be difficult to remove.

Olefin carpets don't have the resiliency of wool, so high traffic areas tend to pack down and lose that fluffy texture over time. Olefin has excellent stain-resistance and color-fastness.

Stain-resist nylon has excellent resilience and good stain and soil repellency, so carpets made with nylon tend to be the best overall performers. However, depending on how the fiber was dyed, Nylon may be bleached by some household chemicals or sunlight.

Polyester fibers have an affinity for oily soils, so food or petroleum grease spots will be more difficult to remove. But Polyester, like Olefin, is very resistant to stains and bleaching.

The bottom line is that how the carpet looks after cleaning will depend on some factors that are out of our control. But with an experienced cleaner you can be assured of the best results possible for your carpet.

Get Rid of Those RECURRING Charges and SAVE

That $3.99 charge pops up every month and we say: "As soon as I get a chance, I'm going to cancel that."

But life keeps you busy and pretty soon it is next month and that gym membership starts to be annoying. As if paying for it will make you use it.

Fact is, people spend more money than they realize for subscriptions. Think about the categories: Online news, Netflix, music streaming, premium television services, delivery, dating apps, advice services -- the list goes on and on.

A recent survey was done of 2,500 consumers. People were given 10 seconds to guess how much they spend on subscriptions every month. The average guess was $79.74 per month. Then they were asked to go through a category checklist and find out exactly how much they spent for subscriptions. The true cost was an average of $237.33 or about $1,900 per year.

A good tip is to set aside an hour to do an audit. Go through your checking account and total monthly subscriptions plus annual ones, like Amazon Prime.

Consider: phone, wi-fi, tv-movie services, streaming services, subscription boxes, cloud storage, news apps, diet and fitness, security apps, web hosting, and gaming.

After you make your list, consider which services give you actual value.

Are the subscriptions adding clutter to your home? Can you find a cheaper service? How much do you use it? How much will you miss it?

Do you have something else you really want to use the subscription money for (retirement, a college fund, emergency fund, vacation)?

Probiotic Products Can Help Clean Your HOME

When you think of probiotics, gut health likely first comes to mind. Whether it's fermented foods like yogurt, kombucha and sauerkraut, or vitamin supplements and skin care, probiotics are widely accepted as microscopic powerhouses. What may surprise you is that probiotics are beneficial in your home as well, thanks to their long-lasting cleaning power.

Probiotics are naturally occurring friendly bacteria present all around us and inside us. The good bacteria in probiotics have inherent cleaning properties that can be used to efficiently clean interior spaces.

Digestible and supplement probiotics are good for the gut, eliminating and balancing out unhealthy bacteria. But probiotics can also be used in products to help clean your home and are becoming popular because of their long-lasting cleaning benefits and as a greener way to clean your home.

One effective, long-lasting daily probiotic cleaner is CLR® Active Clear, a USDA Certified Biobased Product. This multi-purpose cleaner is safe to use on 30+ surfaces, including ceramic, granite, stainless steel and more.

Probiotic cleaners can tackle dirt and grime to help clean a home more efficiently and safely. When you use a biobased cleaner you are not putting toxic chemicals into your home or into Mother Nature, unlike more traditional bacteria-tackling household cleaners that use harsh ingredients and are sometimes considered pesticides.

And to top it off, probiotics don't stop cleaning when you do. CLR Active Clear's 3-in-1 action cleans dirt and grime, fights odors and continues working for up to three days after applied.

Whether you're tackling the bathroom, the kitchen or the playroom, think before you spray. Probiotics help keep surfaces clean long after you've cleaned.
